Dear Sarah

Product title: NCFE Level 3 Certificate for Mathematics in Everyday Life

I am writing on behalf Faculty of Health and Social Sciences at Plymouth University.

We run training courses, undergraduate and apprenticeships, for nurse training and for a number of other health related disciplines, for example, paramedics and midwifery. For all our courses, it is important for participants to be competent, fluent and accurate in numeracy concepts.

I can confirm that this qualification will be a useful additional qualification for our students beyond the usual GCSE mathematics qualification. In particular the focus on contexts for problem solving in health is of great relevance for us.

We are happy to support this qualification and for NCFE to use this letter as an addition to your submission to the Department of Education for course approval.

Yours sincerely

Paul Braund
